39. BUS PINCH POINTS

Mark Korczak and Steve Warwick (Transport Strategy and Programmes) presented details of the Council's consultation concerning bus pinch points.

It was reported that funding had been made available in the 2014/15 financial year to improve identified pinch point locations. Pinch points were defined as:

“anything that prevents a bus from keeping its timetable, ranging from general congestion, parked vehicles, timing of traffic lights, to busy junctions”.

The maps of known problem sites were displayed with information concerning the collation of data received as part of the process.

The suggested methodology to prioritise identified sites was explained, together with the assessment criteria involving frequency and severity scoring.

A provisional list of locations within the Ward, which had been identified from initial consultation including the Bus Users Panel, was discussed.

In reply to questions, the types of measures suggested to improve the problem locations including physical measures and increased lane enforcements were clarified. It was confirmed that the list could be influenced through the ongoing consultation and community representatives and residents were encouraged to submit their views to the Transport Strategy Team.

Mark and Steve were thanked for their presentation.

40. MOWMACRE HILL PRIMARY SCHOOL

Councillor Riyait reported on the school's intention to become an academy following an Ofsted report that defined the school as 'inadequate'. The majority of Governors had supported the move to become an academy to take the school out of 'special measures' following the inadequate report.

In response to questions Councillor Riyait confirmed that the main issues affecting the schools performance related to poor behaviour and poor attendance records, which had been exacerbated by the long-term absence of the Head teacher. As a recently appointed Community Governor, Councillor Riyait stated that he would be in an improved position to deal with any views on the schools performance in the future.

Norman Rochester commented on the experiences at Woodstock Primary School that had decided to stay in Local Authority control and had made significant improvements through increased involvement of the community in school activities.

41. POLICE UPDATE

Sgt Zakoscielny and PC Blount were in attendance to provide an update on the Police activities in the Ward. PC Blount reported on crime statistics in the ward over the previous three months.

It was reported that a recent operation had led to a reduction in burglaries, following the arrest and detention of a prominent offender.

A rise in theft from unattended vehicles was reported and that unsociable behaviour continued to be a concern. PC Blount encouraged community representatives and residents to report incidents, using the Crimestopper 101 number. The importance of regular reporting of incidents was expressed as this aided the Police in their prioritisation of activities.

A new Police Twitter account of the Ward had been launched "@LPAbbey" and posts to the account were encouraged.

In respect of the problems caused by large groups congregating in public areas, it was confirmed that unless an offence was being committed it was difficult for the police to disperse groups. It was clarified that loitering was not an offence and although residents found the groups to be intimidating, police powers to deal with the perceived problems did not exist.

In response to questions PC Blount reported on the problems concerning cycling on the footway and advised that this would be dealt with when seen, but that the Police were unlikely to commit specific resources to the issue. Clarification of the 'Sentinel' system to record anti-social behaviour was also provided.

Sgt Zakoscielny and PC Blount were thanked for their report.

42. CITY WARDENS UPDATE

Matt Davinson (City Warden) reported on his environmental and enforcement activities in the Ward.

Matt advised that reports of dog fouling and litter had reduced but that fly-tipping had increased. It was noted that many items were large single items left outside rental properties resulting from the vacation of premises by students. He confirmed that problems could be reported to him, or to Cleansing Services who would arrange for bulky items to be collected.

In response to questions concerning the statement that incidents of dog fouling had decreased, Matt confirmed that he could increase patrols and enforcement of dog fouling in the Kinley Road area and asked for specific times and descriptions of offenders to be sent to him.

Matt was thanked for his update.

43. HOUSING UPDATE

Ela Krychowska-Hall (Area Housing Manager) provided an update on Housing issues in the Ward.

It was reported that reports of anti-social behaviour had decreased overall, although one serious incident had occurred recently. Following liaison with police colleagues it was noted that the early intervention had prevented the problem from escalating.

It was reported that low complaints had been received in respect of housing repairs and that there were currently 23 void properties awaiting tenants.

Ela referred to the finance available for improvement schemes and to the ongoing consultation through the various TARAs. Following the consultative process improvements had been proposed, including the resurfacing to walkways and paths which had been well received by tenants.

The list of projects for 2014/15 was being populated and would include works to the Thurstaston Road courtyards which had been in a poor state for some years and required refurbishment and repair. It was noted that this may involve laying a rubberised paving area surface to the courtyard areas.

In response to questions Ela clarified the way in which reports, including problems of damp intrusion were dealt with by the inspection teams.

Ela was thanked for her update.
