Child Benefit was clarified as remaining stand-alone.</li> <li>• Universal Credit will be paid in arrears on a monthly basis directly to the claimant. Emergency financial support can be set-up, such as Housing Benefit being paid to the landlord if required, or moving to fortnightly payments.</li> <li>• Claimants will require three things to claim: a Bank Account, an email address and a telephone number.</li> <li>• Support is available for claimants if required e.g. provision of skills training, ESOL courses, and advice on budgeting.</li> <li>• Claiming will be online. Certain aspects are offered face to face, such as meeting your appointed work coach.</li> <li>• This benefit will be based on earnings not hours as previously and will be adjusted using information from HMRC records. The proportion of benefit which is removed whilst working will be less under Universal Credit than previously.</li> <li>• Every new claimant now will sign a claimant commitment, including hours available to work and a pledge to find that amount of work.</li> </ul> In response to a concern about potential increases in evictions under Universal Credit, all to note that this is not anticipated, as many landlords already let properties to benefit claimants. All to note that further information for residents will be left at Wesley Hall for distribution.
