18. LIBRARY SERVICES - READING PROGRAMMES

The Head of Neighbourhood Services delivered a presentation of an overview of the Library Services Provision.

Members of the Commission were asked to note the presentation.

The Assistant City Mayor for Neighbourhoods noted that it was very important that the message was spread on the range of activities available in Neighbourhood Services and thanked the Chair for the item on the agenda.

Members in attendance from the Children, Young Peoples and Schools Scrutiny Commission were pleased to hear the opportunity that the service were providing for people of all ages and backgrounds.

In discussion Members of the Commission felt reassured with the range of work taking place within the cities libraries and felt this work should continue as it played a very important part in the development of children. It was noted that the Neighbourhood Services has had a positive impact around the city and that various locations were well attended by locals using the different facilities available.

The Assistant City Mayor for Neighbourhoods noted that with the abundance of excellent work being delivered, the Service were committed to delivering the best and maintaining that. Although the service had gone through significant spending reviews, they have been resilient and made sure that the staff and services were in a strong position to continue delivering the fantastic services.

Members of the Commission suggested that if events programmes were shared with Members detailing what is on in respective wards, this would give them the opportunity to also participate.

Members of the Commission raised their concerns on how the service was reaching the children from hard to reach communities many of whom don't have English as their first language. It was noted that there is a book bus available that has set stops on a 4-day rota basis. Although these routes were reviewed, the service planned to keep these routes as they were, as regularity was important for the development of children. The bus visited areas where there was a high need and where children may not be able to travel to their local library facility.

The service had a range of suppliers with a range of reading material available to suit the needs of customers' preferred languages. It was noted that older people in some communities preferred books and material in different languages, this was based on feedback received and evidence of current borrowing habits at different libraries.

It was noted that the service worked with a range of partners to run the initiative of getting every child reading. The Book Start Project provided an information pack that went to every new-born child and the service worked alongside the schools in the city to identify young vulnerable children and provided them with book packs and library cards.

AGREED:

- 1) That the Head of Neighbourhood Services be requested to provide Members with programmes of events at libraries; and
- 2) That the presentation be noted.

19. UNIVERSAL CREDIT IMPACTS - ONE YEAR ON

The Director of Finance submitted a report updating the Commission on Universal Credit full service and its impact, one year on.

The report was introduced and the key points were highlighted. Members were asked to note the report.

During the discussion it was noted that:

- As the process for applying for Universal Credit (UC) was all online there were digital support sessions available, this was predominantly at the Job Centre throughout the day. The Job Centre provided a floor walker service that was available to all those who required assistance with making their claim.
- The Leicester Adult Skills and Learning Service (LASALS) also provided set service sessions to support applicants across its 10 different sites. Information on these sessions were sent to Councillors on a quarterly basis. It was noted that the demand for these sessions changed as the service changed. Members suggested that the dates of these sessions be kept consistent at appropriate locations around the city to target the vulnerable communities who require the service the most.
- With the 5 weeks waiting period prior to payment, the Department for Work and Pensions (DWP) had introduced the Universal Credit Advance. The DWP assured local authorities that this was an advance payment paid to all who seek the advance. The advance payment was interest free and was paid back to the DWP in the first year. Other discretionary payments such as Council Tax discretions were also available and were well advertised to claimants.
- It was noted that although the change had a huge impact on the welfare system there were positives. Members of the Commission felt that staff at the Job Centre and LASALS were very accommodating and supportive with applicants.
- Concerns were raised with the element of rent. As claimants were payed directly rather than landlords, Members felt this could be problematic and could lead to tenants falling behind on rent. Members were aware that this was something that could be altered but felt that Housing Associations were very slow in authorising this change.
- Members were assured that the number of tenants on the Council's own housing stock in arrears was 30%, of which there were a small proportion who were in arrears in high figures. Leicester City Council had invested in additional Tenancy Management Officers to manage this area and the experience so far was that, generally people were managing the transition well.

- As a result of reductions in grant funding, the service were adjusting the way it did things and were shifting towards the digital channel as much as possible but recognising that face to face and telephony support needed to continue to be provided to vulnerable customers.

AGREED:

That the report be noted.

20. DRAFT SCOPE PROPOSAL FOR NEW REVIEW TOPIC: "THE VIABILITY OF A COMMUNITY LOTTERY FOR LEICESTER"

The Chair of the Neighbourhood Services Scrutiny Commission submitted a draft scope proposal for a new review topic and proposed to set up a task group to further investigate the viability of a community lottery.

It was noted that the scope document sets out the process in which the evidence would be gathered. Following this a report would be put together which would be brought to the Commission for consideration before going to the Executive.

The Chair had an amendment she required to be made to the scope document on page 69, box 4, purpose and aims: the word 'moral' to be changed to 'ethical'.

The Lead Director noted that although there are many authorities that host community lotteries, many of these were district council's and only two were unitary authorities that she was aware of. It was further noted that if the community lottery were to go ahead the authority would have to apply for a gambling licence.

Members of the Commission showed their support for participating in the task group and evidence gathering meetings. The Scrutiny Policy Officer would arrange task group dates and forward these to the Members of the Commission.

AGREED:

That the Members of the Commission be requested to support the scope and review to take place.

21. WORK PROGRAMME

The Chair advised that the Members of the Commission were to share any suggested items for the work programme for future meetings with the Chair or the Scrutiny Policy Officer.

AGREED:

That the work programme be noted.

Impact

Our Best Book – Teachers:

“Our Best Book has hugely impacted upon the children’s reading. Their attitude towards reading has positively improved, most notably amongst boys. I believe this is related to the ‘male friendly’ books”

“...the impact of the ‘Best Book scheme’ has encouraged children to take ownership over what they read and given them a purpose for reading for pleasure other than being told to.”

“Our Best Book has inspired even the most reluctant readers to pick up a book and develop reading for pleasure.”

Impact

Our Best Book – What the children said:

“The librarian also helped me get more interested in reading other books that I was less interested in. I love how we went to the library.”

“Everyone loves reading the BEST BOOK!”

“I think the Best Book introduced me to a vast variety of genres I have never thought I would like! Confident because I think I have got better at reading since we have started Our Best Book. Also it made me read more and it made me have a different perspective on books.”
